Reverence for age is a fair test of the vigor of youth; and, conversely, insolence toward the old and the past, whether in individuals or in nations, is a sign rather of weakness than of strength. - Kingsley.

THE CAUSE.-Rich and strong young natures which feel themselves capable of original thought and original work, have respect for those who worked before them. Reverence always accompanies true inde pendence of spirit. The young soldier ad- fer to the magnificent instrument recently mires the old General, the young Midshipman, the old Admiral, just in proportion Sons, at the United States Naval Observaas he himself is likely to be an able and tory in Washington, at an expense of $44, daring officer hereafterr This is true of 000. FRUITLESS REGRETS .- "I would give a thousand worlds, if I had them," said a American, and reflects the highest honor reformed man at a North End Mission upon the opticians who accomplished in temperance meeting, "if I could only blot out the consequences of my conduct in the past." It is one of the saddest associations of vice that no regrets can ever obliterate its consequences. ### After Dinner.

A political orator, speaking of a certain general whom he professed to admire, said that on the field of battle he was always found where the bullets were the thickest. Where was that? asked one of the auditors. in the ammunition wagon.

A large uninvited crowd who assembled in St. Michael's church, in Chester, Pa., to witness a wedding, were locked in by the sexton, and meanwhile the nuptial ceremonies transpired elsewhere

"I think," said a fellow, "I should make a good member of the Legislature, for I use their language. I received two bills a short time since, with requests for immediate payment; the one I ordered to be laid on the table, the other to be read that day six months

The King of Persia once ordered his vizier to make out a list of all the fools in his deminions. He did so, and put his Majesty's name at the head of them. The King asked him why, to which he immediately answered; "Because you entrusted a lac of rupees to men you don't know to buy horses for you a thousand miles off, and who'll never come back." "Ay, but suppose they come back." Then I shall erase your name and insert theirs."

An applicant for a pair of boots at one of our shoe shops was asked what number he wore, and replied, as soon as he could recover from his surprise, "Why two of

A surgeon, after a sanguinary battle, was going his rounds examining his pa-tients. He came at length to a sergeunt who had been struck by a bullet on the left breast directly over the region of the heart. The doctor, at the narrow escape of the man, exclaimed, "Why, my man, where in the name of goodness could your heart have been!" "I guess it must have been in my mouth just then, doctor," re-plied the poor fellow with a faint smile.

A dealer in horse-flesh sold to a gentle man of little experience in such matters a steed as 'perfectly without fault," Next day the buyer came back in great fury, because his groom found out that the alleged "faultless horse" was blind in the right eye. "Why" exclaimed the sly dealer, "that is not the horse's fault; it is only his misfortane."

PASTE THAT WILL KEEP.

Dissolve an ounce of alum in a quart o warm water; when cold add as much flour as will make it the consistence of cream, then stew into it as much powdered rosin as will stand on a shilling and two or three cloves, boil it to a consistence, stirring all the time. It will keep for twelve letter to all the Bishops, asking them to months, and when dry, may be softened come to Rome, as the Pope wishes to see with water.

DIAMOND CEMENT.

Take ! pound white glue; I quart rain water ; 3 gills of alcohol ; 4 ozer white lead; dissolve the glue in the rain water; add the alcohol and dissolve again; then add the lead , boil 15 minutes; stir all the time, bottle while hot. The above is sold as a recipe for mending wood, leather, etc., to make as atrong as before broken.

To REMOVE PAINT AND PUTTY FROM WINDOW GLASS.

Put sufficient saleratus into the hot water to make a strong solution, and with this saturate the paint which adheres to the glass. Let it remain until nearly dry, then rub off with a wooien cloth.

The Providence Journal makes the following judicious remarks upon the management of lawns, and the timely warning to beware of tree peddlers:

"A good many people will be making new or restoring old lawns in the Spring. From the Gardener's Monthly we take the following advice as to the grass med to be sown-of course, upon land thoroughly prepared; the amount is for one acre Kentucky blue grass, twenty-eight pounds red-top, twenty eight pounds; white clov-er, twelve pounds; creeping bent grass ten pounds. Sow carefully and roll. And, INDIFERENCE. - Most people drift. To whether the place be large or small, be do this is easy. #### CULTURE OF WOMEN IN ENG-LAND.

While we are digesting Dr. Clarke's serous objections to the "co-education of the sexes," it is well to know that the attention given by women in England to those studies hitherto regarded as masculine iucreases continually. A London paper in forms us that the "number of ladies attending the classes at University College, London, in the Michaelmas-term of the Session 1872 3, was 180, and in the corresponding term of the present Session reached 233. If we add the students in Jurisprudence, Political Economy, and Fine last Christmas was 325." Jurisprudence and Political Economy, are not light literature, and in attempting these the English woman shows the sturdiness of her race,

It is remarkable, too, that the effort to obtain the political franchise for woman has not fallen into contempt in England, as it has the United States. The managers of the movement have there shown eminent good sense; they have retained the respect of their opponents, even where they have failed to convince them. The conservative Disraeli is reported to have described "the present exclusion of duly qualified single women from the parlie entary vote as anomalous." In England Miss AbbySmith, the recusant Connecti-cut in I payer would be cheered to the eche. — Methodist.

Dr. Dio Lewis, lately spoke of the injuious effects of the use of tobacco on the human constitution. He said, "Narcotics lower the tone of the nervous system. Americans, with a large endowment of the MISS RIPLEY, humorous faculty, are not a social, happy people. I echo the voice of many wise men when I say that the smoke which is constantly rising from the pipe and cigar contributes not a little to the cloud which shades the hational temper." He recommended the use of baths, but spoke decidedly against the "zinc coffins" now in vogue, and recommended the hand-bath in which the skin should be merely moistened, to be followed by a rough towel, and that such moistening would take scarcely more than four spoonfuls of water." His remarks were listened to with great interest and many questions were asked him, for fuller information. He recommended to
